Co-ord Council Give 'Service' Plaque To Lemon Grove Review

A Community Service award was presented to the Lemon Grove Review Monday night by the Lemon Grove Coordinating Council at the Lemon Grove junior high school auditorium.

Ray Blair, chief of community relations for General Dynamics, and Supervisor David Bird were featured as the council's announced program.

Blair showed a movie of unclassified elements of the newest missile program.

Bird discussed the county budget presently under public study by the board of supervisors. "As long as welfare takes as much money as it does, there is no direction the tax cost can go but up," Bird declared. He said that welfare expenditures are made mandatory by legislature and by the federal government. "No relief can be expected unless the public demands it at state legislative level," he declared.

Dr. George Holland, a Lemon Grove dentist, discussed an area program for retarded children. He announced a community "coffee" June 29, sponsored by the ESD Chapter of the Association for Retarded Children which will be the kick-off for a building program.

SERVICE AWARD

A Community Service Award was made to Max Goodwin, publisher of the Lemon Grove Review by the Coordinating Council for "leadership and cooperation" in helping to bring the community a "green spot" park. The park, OKd last week by the planning department over several mild protests, will be started late this summer. It is located at Washington and Mt. Vernon.

Bird presented the award to Goodwin. The award was a plaque in which a gold electric clock was inset. The base of the plaque carried an inscribed message "Lemon Grove Coordinating Council Community Service Award - Max Goodwin, Lemon Grove Review, 1961"

SMITH GIVES TALK

An introductory talk was made by the Rev. E. Walter Smith, pastor of the Lemon Grove Congregational Church and past president of the Coordinating Council. He said that Goodwin "had been constant in his attempt to do good things for the community."

In Goodwin's response he commended Bird for "being ever ready to help Lemon Grove residents." Bird interrupted momentarily to ask Goodwin "Are you going to give the clock back to me?"

Dr. Dennis McLaughlin, council president, was master of ceremonies. He also arranged the program.

School Heads Busy With Voters' Lists

Efforts of the principals of the elementary schools in South Spring Valley will be devoted to getting the voters registered preparatory to the October elections for school bonds. The proceeds of the bonds will go for schools planned several years ago for the La Presa area. Donald Barnes, principal of Avondale school; William Schell, principal of Bancroft school, and Frederick S. Burkhart, principal of Casa de Oro elementary have just completed a check of the precinct voters' lists against the parents of the enrolled children in these schools and find there are several thousand parents not yet registered. Says Don Barnes: "We expect to have a busy summer. Our aim is to get the bonds passed also for the Grossmont College which will serve the whole area of the Grossmont School District."

'Backseat' Robber Steals From Lady

A Lemon Grove woman who left her purse on the back seat of her car lately reports the loss of $30 in bills and an amount of change. Mrs. Joan Alice Rosenberger, 7138 Mt. Vernon, said that whoever broke into her car also ransacked the glove compartment.

Local Kick-Off For Fund Drive To Coincide With TV Program

The East County Chapter of the San Diego County Association for Mentally Retarded Children opens a building fund drive with a televised program over Channel 6, Thursday, June 29, at 10:30 a.m. At that time, Lynn Taylor of that station will interview Dr. George Holland and Dr. George Brown, the high-ranking officers of the East County Chapter.

To coincide with the televised program, the Chapter is sponsoring 10-11 a.m. "coffees" throughout the area. Anyone attending a coffee is to donate $1 and receive an honorary deed to a square-foot of the land the Chapter plans to purchase as a site for much-needed facilities.

Mrs. George Holland, publicity chairman for the East County Chapter, said volunteers are sought to hold coffees in their home.

Among the first to respond to the Chapter's program are Sam Pernicano, who will be serving coffee and donuts in his restaurant on Broadway in Lemon Grove from 10-11 a.m., and the Lemon Grove Women's Club Juniors, an organization which has pledged 100 per cent support of the program.

Mrs. Holland said volunteers may call Lee Brown, HO 6-9656, Buzzie Dall, HO 3-2256 or herself, HO 9-9656 if they wish to set up a coffee in their own home.

She said that the importance of the project cannot be overstressed. Present facilities are not only inadequate, they are almost non-existent.

Amos, The Barber, To Celebrate Eightieth Birthday On June 29

A Lemon Grove barber who will be 80 on June 29 still relishes working full-time and hasn't made any plans to retire. He is Amos Whitney, the pleasant and spry gentleman who runs Whitney's barbershop at 7396 Broadway.

Amos has been working in Lemon Grove for three years. His wife, Ann, who is 73, said that he tried retiring but that he was too active. At the end of four months of retirement he decided to start his local barbershop.

"I have a few aches and pains," Amos said lately, "but overall I am feeling fine. I still love to give haircuts."

He has been giving haircuts for 57 years. For about the first 30 of these he worked at the Palmer House in Chicago and, when he brought his family West, he worked as a barber in downtown San Diego for 20 years.

THE BIGGEST CHANGE

Amos said that the biggest change in men's haircuts has been in the amount of hair worn. "The popular haircut for teen-agers when I started barbering," he said, "was called the 'Buster Brown.' This featured bangs and a bob. What a difference between that style and today's flat-top or crew-cut!

"Men wore longer hair too, the pompadour and burr styles being popular. Maybe it was fortunate that longer hair was popular. Our old instruments couldn't cut the hair off quite as fast as our modern ones can. "The prices in those days were slightly different, too," Amos said. "An adult haircut was 25c, a shave was 10c and a youngster's haircut was only 15c."

Any survey of older people which tries to determine the reasons for longevity comes up with a variety of answers, many of which contradict each other. Nevertheless, the reasons Amos gives would seem generally true.

JUST LUCKY

Says Amos: "I don't know how I managed to live so long. Maybe I'm just lucky. One thing which might have helped is that I've never had a serious accident or illness, although I've had some 'close calls' occasionally.

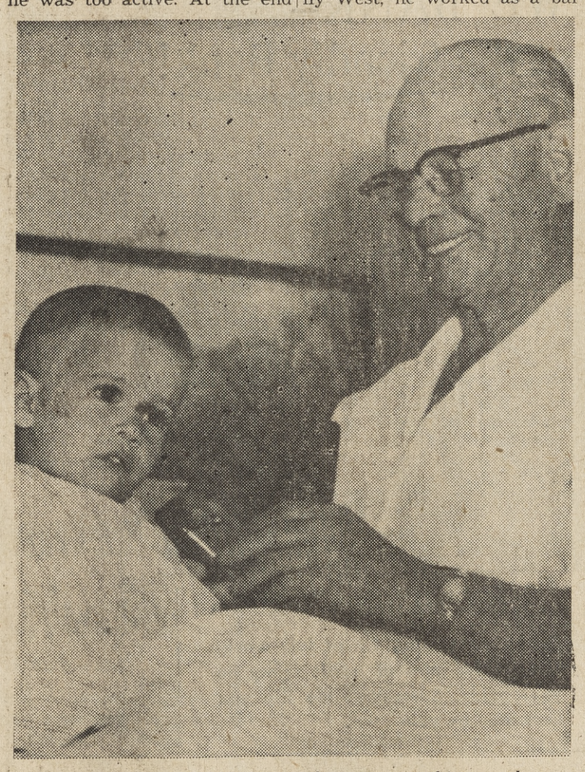

"I think that family longevity has something to do with it, too," he said. "One of my aunts lived to be 95. But on my mother's side of the family people didn't live unusually long.

One of his regular patrons, R. H. Werner of 7405 Mt. Vernon St., Lemon Grove, recalls that in one of his conversations with Amos, the latter told him that a reason for his reaching his age was that he never tried to overdo anything.

OLD AGE AND YOUTH — Barber Amos Whitney—almost 80—who couldn't stand retirement, gives a haircut to Bobby Connors, slightly over 2 years of age, in his Lemon Grove barbershop. If the time was in the early part of this century, Amos pointed out, a youngster like Bobby, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald P. Connors, 2645 Buena Vista, would be wearing considerably more hair and teenage boys would be wearing bangs and bobs. Also, their haircuts would be only 15¢. Staff photo.

Warships For L.A.?

Bernard Brous, head of the two-man American Republican Army who threatened to capture Los Angeles after venting his rage on American telephone companies by dynamiting microwave towers, seems to have a pretty good case.

Anyone having come to cross purposes with the new-fangled do-it-yourself long-distance dialing could have very readily come up with the same destructive desire.

And Los Angeles, we feel, is a ripe-plum for capture. Los Angeles has no standing army nor navy, and there seems to be no organized or disorganized group ready to defend her.

Once lost to Brous, Los Angeles might be regained by negotiations. . .if anyone cared. Long Beach, for example, out of the spirit of neighborliness, might offer Brous several navy cruisers from her magnificent port, for the return of the metropolis.

Should all this be successful, it would teach Fidel that tractors are for the novices, and that it takes more than a beard to be a big leaguer.

No Tax Hope Here

Taxpayers who hoped for relief from their tax-paying burdens during the coming year needn't look toward Civic Center for aid.

In a sorrowful voice, Supervisor David Bird told members of the Lemon Grove Coordinating Council Monday night that the tax rate would continue to rise. Mostly it will be due to new legislation. Some of it comes from a tax base that failed to grow as much as anticipated.

In the legislative facet, the county will be required to raise three millions more from homeowners because of new exemptions that are now law. These exemptions are in the Aid to Needy Children, Aid to Needy Blind and Old Age benefits program expansion as well as in property exemptions (golf courses are the latest to be added to tax exempt rolls).

"The Legislafure wanted to liberalize the state's aid programs and this is the result," he explained.

Recipients of tax-money aid need no longer be a citizen of the United States in order to derive benefits. It's a state law, he explained.

He also told his listeners the thing that was too apparent by now.

There's no hope for the county tax burden to ease up in the forseeable future he stated.

Lopped $75,000

L.G. School Budget Less Than in '60

A heavier classload looms for Lemon Grove teachers next year and more work is scheduled for custodians as the board of trustees instructed District Superintendent Byron Netzley to take $75,000 out of the 1961-62 preliminary budget preparatory to final hearing Monday.

No teachers are to be dismissed. Of the teachers leaving the district, two will not be replaced.

Also scheduled to go, as the proposed $1,690,000 budget is being whacked to $1,615,000, are two custodians, a teacher consultant, and a gardener.

Travel expenses will be lopped 60 per cent, and the outdoor camping program, which was utilized by 380 students last year, is being dropped.

Netzley was asked to bring in a budget Monday that will be $35,000 less than last years.

The board re-adopted the salary schedule under which Lemon Grove teachers had been working. This provides for step-by-step increases. Capital outlay proposals were cut $15,000.

BIG INSURANCE FUND CHECK GOES TO STATE

The State Compensation Insurance Fund has sent its check for $1,202,407 to the state treasury. It is the largest premium tax payment in California's workmen's compensation insurance industry.

Pass and Smash Is Driver's Code In La Presa Incident

A motorist who apparently has a distaste for being passed, vented his spleen by smashing the side window of the auto driven by Martin W. Harbert, 3967 El Canto, Spring Valley.

Each time Harbert passed the stranger, the other driver gave the light signal for re-passing, and Harbert said he pulled off the road to accommodate him. A passenger in Harbert's car corroborated the statement.

At Jamacha boulevard and Sweetwater Spring boulevard, the stranger blocked the lane with his car, got out and smashed the side window of Harbert's car with his fist - then drove on.

The license number was given sheriff's men. They found it registered to a Los Angeles man who is yet to be contacted.

'Cal Beautiful' Group Reports Costlier Cleanup

Roadside cleanup costs in California are increasing according to a report from H. N. Bosworth, associate landscape architect in the California Department of Public Works to the California State Chamber of Commerce "California Beautiful" coordinating committee.

"Last year we reported to this committee that our cost for roadside cleanup work had been over $1,000,000 in the 1958-59 fiscal year. Final costs showed an actual expenditure of $1,444,586 during the fiscal year 1959-60. This represented about 4 per cent of the total maintenance budget. It is anticipated that the cost of cleanup will rise to $1.75 million during 1960-61," Bosworth said.

Mukai's Corn Uprooted By Vandal Driver

A motorist drove his car through a field of tender eating corn and destroyed enough roastin' ears to last the average family all year.

The corn, belonging to Tom, Abe and George Mukai, was being raised at the Mukai ranch at Sweetwater and Palm streets.

The vehicle traveled more than 20 yards ripping out plants four rows wide and wrecking two irrigation troughs. There were two such paths in the field.

The Mukai brothers are among the best known and most highly respected Japanese farmers in San Diego county. George, who is also an artist who paints part time in New York, was one of the regiment of 100 taking part in the Battle of Cassino in WWII. The regiment was made up of American-born Japanese.

The damage to the corn amounted to $200 and long hours of work.

Taxpayers Suggest Cut Of $1,000,000 From County Budget

SAN DIEGO (CNS)—Public hearings on the final county budget for 1961-62, now standing at $87,054,013, began Monday before the County Board of Supervisors, and the Board heard more pleas for money than it did for budget cuts.

E. T. Ageno, president of the San Diego Taxpayers Assn., suggested the paring of about $1,000,000 from the budget. This would come from such items as a proposed homemaker service, a mental health program, the number of holidays for county employes, a proposed health program for employes capital projects and donations to local groups for advertising county resources.

The taxpayers' organization budget-cutting proposals were backed by Clifford Bates, speaking for the San Diego County Farm Bureau.

However, pleas for funds were made by representatives of the San Diego Chamber of Commerce, the Fine Arts Society, the Natural History Museum, the San Diego Symphony Assn., the Museum of Man and the Borrego Chamber of Commerce.

Supervisor Robert C. Cozens asked one of the pleaders for funds how the Board could clt the budget, yet aid what were undoubtedly worthy causes and decide, if it had to, which to help and which not to help.

The answer was that cultural growth stimulated the community and helped, even, to lessen the need for such programs as the mental health one.

Board chairman David W. Bird, at the conclusion of the answer to Cozens' question, said: "In other words, Bob, you're on your own."

The hearings on the budget will probably close late this week, after which the Board will adopt the budget for the coming year. The current year's budget is $78,299,877, and the tax rate is $2.07 per $100 of assessed valuation. An increase in the tax rate is expected.

Planners Lose First 'Split-Lot' Test

SAN DIEGO (CNS) — The first appeal to the County Board of Supervisors to overrule a county planning department decision on a "split lot" application Tuesday resulted in a victory for the land owners.

The case was one continued from a week earlier, involving a planning department denial of approval for a division of a 120-acre piece in the Poway area into three lots.

Patricia Bagby and Michael W. Mann appealed to Supervisors, saying their division had been denied because the planning department did not think they had access to the land they wanted to divide. The parcel lies a mile and a half off Pomerado road, in the hills to the west, and south of Poway road.

Roger Ruffin, representing the applicants, said the property had a right of way from Pomerado road due to use. He said the "prescriptive right" was as good as any that could be recorded.

Supervisors a week ago told Ruffin to bring proof of the "prescriptive" right of way, which he did on Tuesday. He presented a letter from the granddaughter of the original owner of the property in dispute, saying the trail to the property had been in use for 25 years.

'Prettiest Ones' To Appear At Safeway Stores

The area's two prettiest girls will make personal appearances at Safeway Stores Friday and Saturday.

Lemon Grove's Fairest of the Fair Princess Rosita Samayoa will welcome the public at the store in College Grove. Spring Valley's Fairest of the Fair Princess Marlene Bates will greet people at the Federal and Euclid store.

The girls will visit the stores following a luncheon sponsored by the grocery chain in which the manager of each store will be host to the princess of his community. Reagan Oberdorf, merchandise manager for the S.D. Safeway division, will make presentations of a year's supply of hosiery and act as master of ceremonies at the Thursday luncheon.

Burglars Like Anything Of Value

When Bruce A. Robbins of Spring Valley prepared his Carleton Hills house to be sold recently, he took the precaution of removing curtains "just in case" thieves came around. But Robbins, a welder who lives at 3632 Hartzel Dr., reports that someone took the curtain rods. They were valued at $30.

Man, 70, Performs Rescue Here

O. O. Hipps of the Windmill Trailer Court at 3595 Olive St. in Lemon Grove made local headlines on June 16 when he pulled his nearly-suffocated neighbor, Jack Janssen, from the latter's trailer.

The Lemon Grove Fire Department, which got the call to the trailer court at 8:46 a.m., found Janssen in a semi-conscious condition due to inhalation of smoke from a smoldering couch. (Picture of Hipps with couch). A doctor on the scene ordered him taken to the hospital.

Hipps had pulled Janssen, a man in his early thirties, from the smoke-filled trailer when firemen arrived. Several persons in the trailer court had attempted to enter but had been forced back by dense, suffocating smoke. Hipps said he held his breath when he went in. He said he could see someone moving but that when he got Janssen in his arms, the latter went limp. Mr. Ola Sanders, another neighbor, assisted Hipps with Janssen as the semi-conscious man was brought out.

Letters TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor:

Being a subscriber to the Spring Valley Bulletin and a property owner in our Valley Spring Valley, I wish to be heard regarding incorporation of the Spring Valley area into a "city". We moved here about two years ago from the city life of San Diego to the inviting suburban life offered in Spring Valley. Like most of the people here, we have enjoyed this life, though it be for only a short time, then boom! The next thing we hear is incorporation. Why? Well, I have read many of the reasons why, but have not had my question answered. I have also read many of the why not to incorporate reasons, and I find them to be quite factual and very true.

All we need to do is look all around us. City of La Mesa, trouble. City of Del Mar, trouble. City of El Cajon, trouble and on and on.

It seems to me that we would not be relieved of our already large property taxes but they would continue plus the cost of operating a city. Who would pay the city manager? The taxpayers. Who would pay the police force? The taxpayers, and so forth.

What do we have as revenue sources in Spring Valley? No industry, no beaches, but plenty of taxpayers and that is who would pay and continue paying if incorporation is passed.

I say let's keep it a happy valley, our Spring Valley, and an unincorporated area of San Diego. I hope all the property owners in the area will plan to attend the mass meetings now planned and voice their opinions on "To Be A City Or Not To Be?"

A Faithful Reader,

A reception at the church followed the ceremony. Maid of honor was Janice Hill and bridesmaids were Jolene Booth and Neva Creighton. The DIMMER VIEW

There, the state police chief addresses a letter to the parents of every teen-ager who has contact with the traffic police, regardless of whether the youngster is a violator or not, and whether he is a passenger or driver.

An example of how this works is a minor accident involving a car-load of youngsters. The damage is negligible. Whether the driver is cited or not, the parents of every youngster in the car gets a letter from the police department revealing the event.

We think the plan has great merit and recommend that such a program be instituted in this county. Too often parents learn that their child has a bad drivers' record only after the youngster becomes involved in a serious accident requiring court appearance.

Letters to parents where traffic violation citations are noted indicated seems to offer a salutary treatment for chronic condition. . .a condition in which the parents and the youngster are out of communications contact regarding motoring habits says Mrs. Helen Hine of 1690 Skyline Drive, Lemon Grove. She is the reader who asked us to report on the police-to-parents letters.

Let no "Fair Play For Teenagers" group rise up and try to shout us down as being discriminatory. A look at insurance rates relating to the younger group makes the point as well as a score of editorials on the subject.

What is "Temporary"?

Webster defines the word "temporary" as meaning, "Lasting for a time only; existing or continuing for a limited time; not permanent; ephemeral; transitory."

But that definition, official as it is, does not seem to apply to the "temporary" increases in the federal tax on gasoline.

The latest of these supposedly "temporary" boosts became law about a year ago. It was for one cent a gallon, bringing the total federal tax to four cents. The cent increase was due to expire June 30.

Maybe it will—more than likely it won't. It is proposed to extend it again—no doubt on another "temporary" basis. Then, to add insult to injury, it is also proposed that an additional half-cent a gallon tax be tacked on. This, too, would be "temporary."

Dear Editor:

The members of San Miguel PTA wish to express their appreciation for the courtesy and helpfulness of the staff of the Lemon Grove Review for publishing items of news and interest concerning our PTA activities. We feel that the newspaper publicity has contributed greatly to the success of our program, and wish to extend our thanks.

We would also like to thank the photographer who arranged for the picture of our children and their Christmas box for a needy family. The children enjoyed the experience, and became more aware that the Review is "their newspaper" too.

Amos, The Barber

Amos said he didn't know about 00 but that he expected to be round for quite a while yet. Ie commented: "When I was uch younger, I never thought 'd see 80."

Amos has a daughter and hree grandchildren living in he San Diego area. His two brothers live in Michigan. Ann s his second wife, his first one aving died at the age of 62.

Fifty-seven years of practice should have built up a lot of skill. Werner, who's been getting haircuts from Amos for a year and a half now, finds this true. He said Amos "has a lot of patience, does sincere work and gives a good haircut."

When he gave a haircut lately to Bobby Connors, a Lemon Grove boy, Amos said that Bobby was a very well-behaved young customer. "But I'll tell you one thing that hasn't changed in 57 years of barbering," Amos said. "Some of these new young ones squirm just as much as the old young ones did when they were getting their first few haircuts."

Methodist Meeting To Feature Debate On Incorporation

The Men's Club of the Foothills Methodist Church on Avocado boulevard has scheduled a dinner and meeting for June 29 at the church. The dinner begins at 7 p.m. and is open to members only. The meeting, scheduled for 8 is open to the public, with two speakers to present their views on the current controversy, "Shall Spring Valley Incorporate or Not?"

Rev. John Kerr, pastor of the Shepherd of the Valley Lutheran Church, will speak in favor of incorporation, and Jim Ethetton, chairman of the Taxpayers Against Incorporation, will take the opposite viewpoint.

An expanded program for the youth of the area is scheduled to begin sometime in July at the Foothills Methodist Church, according to Rev. Jim King, pastor. Wednesdays there will be sports and other events, Rev. King said. He pointed out that it is the hope of the church congregation to make Foothills Methodist Church a community center for youth activities during the summer.

Dear Editor:

I read and enjoy the Lemon Grove Review every Thursday. I did not, however, enjoy the printing of the letter that made a parody of the 23rd Psalm. I feel that any form of ridicule of any part of the Bible is a sin. As the 23rd Psalm has always been my favorite, I feel that a true Christian woulld not make sport of it.

I am in my 87th year and I live on O A S. I have lived in San Diego County 51 years, raised six children here. They work and pay taxes, as do my grandchildren, great-grandchildren.

I pray that the writer of that disgraceful article will never have to appeal to the O A S, which has been such a blessing to me.

Sermon Deals With Healing Through Prayer

"Now is come salvation, and strength, and the kingdom of our God, and the power of his Christ." These words from Revelation (12:10) are the Golden Text highlighting the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Christian Science." The need to follow Christ Jesus' example by healing the sick compassionately through prayer will be stressed.

Matthew's Gospel relates, "And Jesus went about all the cities and villages, teaching in their synagogues, and preaching the gospel of the kingdom, and healing every sickness and every disease among the people. But when he saw the multitudes, he was moved with compassion on them, because they fainted, and were scattered abroad, as sheep having no shepherd" (9:35-36).

Other officers installed were Mmes. Trena Peloquin, program chairman; Pauline Milligan, worship chairman; Maude Hawkins, recording secretary; Pearl McKee, corresponding secretary and Naomi Pitts, treasurer.

A lovely luncheon with Flag Day decorations was enjoyed by all. A set of silver candlesticks was presented to the outgoing president, Mrs. Vernon C. Neely, also of Lemon Grove. An annual report was read of the many accomplishments of this fellowship in the past year in service and Christian development and they are looking forward to the coming year under Mrs. Allee's guidance. The theme for the year will be "Doorways to Decision." This Fellowship meets the second Tuesday of each month at the church, 4210 Massachusetts Ave. for a luncheon and program. Child care is provided and all interested women in the community are cordially invited to attend.

Graduates Sermon Planned By Church

June graduates are especially invited to morning worship at Vista La Mesa Christian this Sunday as Rev. David will speak to them on the subject: "Graduate: Your Life!" In the sermon will be a brief resume of the Battle of Waterloo and a comparison of the unconditional surrender required of a follower of the Way.

Seniors are asked to occupy the front pews on their left during the worship service. Seniors graduating from Vista La Mesa will receive Testaments as recognition of this honor. Services are at 9:45 and 11.

Although the Padres favored a split season, the plan was voted down by the remainder of the league last weekend.

Baptist Temple Property Acquired

Escrow was completed this week for the acquiring of six lots in the La Presa district of Spring Valley on the corner of Concepcion drive and San Carlos street, by the Baptist Bible Fellowship for the erection of the Spring Valley Baptist Temple. It is expected to build several units at a cost of $30,000. Rev. W. T. McTeer, from the headquarters at Springfield, Mo., is to be the pastor of the Baptist Temple here. He was pastor of the church at Springfield, Mo. for 16 years after leaving a pastorate at the Baptist Bible Institute of Fort Worth, Texas. He is married and has two daughters.

Mr. McTeer says he expects to start building soon and hopes to have it completed by the end of the year.

Big Dog Has Day

A big shepherd dog is suspect in the case of a recent canine attack on drapes in the Lemon Grove home of Mrs. Margaret D. Sexton, 1661 Watwood.

Mrs. Sexton reported to the sheriff's department that a dog entered their home during the family's absence and attacked drapes hanging in front of the sliding glass door to the patio. The dog destroyed one drape—ten feet by seven feet—and left teeth marks as evidence in others. Torn bits of drapes greeted the family on its return home.

The intruding canine gained entrance through a partially-open sliding screen door. Mrs. Sexton said that children in the neighborhood had reported seeing the shepherd in the area previously and that she had chased it away several times. However, no one saw it on the scene at the time of the incident.

Bobbie Hancock Wins Kiwanis School Award

Bobbie Hancock, 8-6 student at the Lemon Grove Junior High School, won the coveted Kiwanis Scholarship Award last Thursday night at that school's graduation ceremonies. An "A" student, she has achieved distinction in all phases of school activities, including the editing of the student newspaper, The Grover. The presentation was made by Bert Cosby of the school board.

Two students vied for top honors in the citizenship field. Ray Lange of the school board made awards to Darrel Coher and Janis Kogan, both of the 8-7 class. Darrel is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Cohen of 6705 San Miguel, and Janis is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Kogan of 7050 Rosemary Lane.

The winners' names will be inscribed on the perpetual cup awarded since 1948. Their recognition is due to two years of straight "A" citizenship records as members of the school's Gold Citizenship Club.

The J. Henry Bender Construction Co. was low bidder on three projects in the Lemon Grove Elementary school district.

Bender's bid of $218,730 was only $146 lower than that of the Martin Construction Co., both of San Diego. The bid was $16,000 lower than District Architect Clyde Hufbauer's estimate.

Work includes a four-classroom wing and multi purpose room at Mt. Vernon; enlargement of multi purpose rooms at Vista La Mesa and San Miguel schools; surfacing playground at VLM, and expansion of teachers' dining room at San Miguel.

A bill by Assemblyman Sheridan N. Hegland, La Mesa, appropriating $1,200,000 for a Federally - approved Oceanside anti-beach erosion project, has been passed out of the Senate Finance Committee.

The measure now goes to the Senate floor.

Under its provisions, the entire amount advanced by the State will be repaid by the Federal Government. In addition, the State will recover $252,000 previously granted on a beach erosion project at Oceanside, said Hegland.

"This is an urgency measure, since the city of Oceanside has already lost more than 4,000,000 cubic yards of sand from its beach," he said.

"This is the first Federally-approved beach erosion project where the Federal Government assumes 100 per cent of the cost of restoration," Hegland said. "This is because the primary cause of the loss is directly attributable to a Federal jetty constructed during World War II."

SV Pony Leaguers Are Getting To Be A Bunch Of Pros

Miss Sandy Weir, retiring queen, installed the new officers. The master of ceremonies was Mr. Wayne Fillpot, worshipful master of La Mesa Masonic Lodge, and Miss Judith Anderson was soloist. Passes Checks-- Will Travel

Victor J. Levigne, owner of a service station at 3065 Imperial Ave., Lemon Grove, told sheriff's deputies that a man and wife alternately made purchases and cashed checks at his station over a three-day period.

All the checks were returned "NSF" and Levigne is out $50 cash plus the supplies the couple bought.

A directional sign, 7x4 ft. in size, is missing from Honey Spring road and Highway 94. Roy Wallin, owner of the Deer Horn Ranch in Jamul, to whose ranch the sign pointed, asked the sheriff's department to help find it.

Mr. and Mrs. Dale Kesinger, 10073 Buena Vista St., Spring Valley had a sad story to tell the sheriff's department last week when they returned from a two-months' vacation. They rented their house to help defray the vacation cost. When they returned they claimed they found tenants, a $150 hi-fi set, a gas powered lawn mower, an electric train set and a Palo Verde fishing rod all missing.

Thirsty thieves made away with more than five cases of beer from the Moreau Distributors at Jamacha Junction, West Moreau, the firm's owner told sheriff's men. The thieves covered the point of entry with boards to escape detection. Evidence included a tennis-shoe print.

Two teen-aged boys have returned old coins to John E. Maynes 1554 Angeles St., Lemon Grove. Maynes said the boys admitted the theft and returned the loot in one of Maynes' old socks, the device used as a money bag in the theft originally.

SICK AZALEAS

Azaleas will frequently sicken and die from no apparent cause. You may have given the plant proper fertilization, enhanced the soil with trace elements, and you may be able to find no form of insect infestation. Still you have a sick Azalea!

LOOK UNDERGROUND

In a case like this, dig a little of the soil away from the root structure and look for a small whitish grub. In California, we call it the Brachyrhinus. In certain areas of the southern states, they call it the white fringed beetle, and it is a great enemy to Azaleas all over the country. It girdles the feeder roots and devours the outer bark of the root, thus killing the plant.

TREATMENT

If you should find this insect infesting your Azalea's, water them well and then treat the surrounding soil area with a combination of dichlorethyl ether and copper, which will destroy the grubs without doing any injury to the plant.

Better Business Bureau Can Help Home Buyers

With so many homes going up all over the country and especially here in the Spring Valley and Lemon Grove area, the Better Business Bureau asks the question, "Thinking of buying or building a home?"

The Bureau says that the average person has little experience in home buying or building and often neglects to follow important steps to safeguard this largest single investment most of us ever make.

The Better Business Bureau of San Diego has a "Fact" booklet, "Buying or Building a Home," containing much helpful information. It is available for a nominal price at the BBB office.

State Making Final Payment On Bond

SACRAMENTO, June 8 — Back in 1909 when automobiles chugging over California's rural roadways included the Oakland, Maxwell, Mercer and Pope Hartford, the state issued $18 million in bonds to finance a highway construction program.

The final payment on that first of three bond issues for highway building will be made next month, state controller Alan Cranston announced today.

Cranston said the final payment will include $400,000 on the principal and $8,000 in interest. The total interest paid on the bonds will amount to $18,204,200.

Youth Orchestra Auditions Set For June At Miguel

The Civic Youth orchestra's conductor, Lawrence K. Christianson has announced that he will be auditioning new members for the orchestra from June 24 to June 30 at Mt. Miguel High School.

Starting this fall, there will be a Training Orchestra which will provide symphonic experience for those musicians who may need it before qualifying for the Civic Youth Orchestra. Christianson will conduct the Training Orchestra also.

Although the orchestra recesses during the summer, there are some summer workshop sessions for viola and string bass players, sponsored by the orchestra. There is no age limit for members of the Training Orchestra or the Civic Youth orchestra. At present, the average age of orchestra members is 17, although there are quite a number who are much younger and much older, the youngest being 10, and the oldest being 23.

The orchestra, founded five years ago, is now finishing its fifth year of study and performance of great music. Next year's work will commence early in September.

Any young instrumentalist who would like to audition for membership, either in the new Training Orchestra or the regular Civic Youth orchestra, should telephone Mrs. H. W. Rubottom, HO 6-8144, for an audition appointment.

Last-Minute Rush Occurs At Barbecue; Event Big Success

The Lemon Grove Chamber of Commerce reported a good turnout at their barbecue dinner in the Lemon Grove Junior High School cafetorium June 17. Everyone went away well-pleased with the dinner. The CC said that College Grove merchants were well represented.

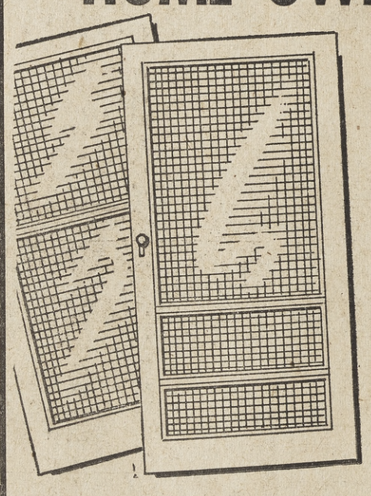

Sam Pernicano is to be complimented on the fine job of preparing and serving the food. Although the last hour brought a tremendous crowd, Pernicano, aided by workers, handled the situation very well.

The Chamber of Commerce appreciates the assistance rendered, and expresses sincere thanks to all volunteers.
